FAST TRACK TO MEDICAL CANNABIS PRODUCTION

NIRAS: a one-stop solution for investors in medical cannabis

NIRAS offers complete one-stop solutions to clients in the medical cannabis sector. We can offer help in all phases and processes related to the establishment of production facilities for medical cannabis.

NIRAS covers everything from risk assessment, financial simulation, and business plans to carrying out detailed process design and managing construction of production facilities.

Furthermore, we also undertake all tests of the facility in compliance with GACP (Good Agricultural and Collection Practices) and GMP (Good Manufacturing Practice) to ensure final production facility approval by the authorities.

15 months from project start to approved production facility

NIRAS has been a first mover in the European medical cannabis business. We have been responsible for design and tests of the first officially approved facility for production of medical cannabis in Denmark.

NIRAS offers a fast track solution that can deliver approved cannabis production facilities within a period of 15 months - from the first financial assessment to the facility is ready for medical cannabis production.

NIRAS can design new production facilities from scratch or adapt existing facilities such as greenhouses in accordance with all standards and specifications from the national authorities.

Finally, we manage all processes and standards related to official approval of the final product by the authorities.
